The Patricia Michaels Native Haute Couture Fashion Show

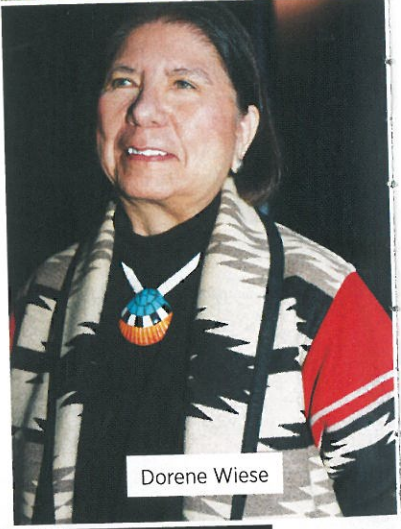

The Mitchell Museum of the American Indian and Jennifer N. Pritzker hosted an evening of fashion and fundraising in early October. Supporters took over Chicago's Mayne Stage as Patricia Michaels of Project Runway fame presented 20 new looks from her PM Waterlily collection during an exclusive fashion show. The night was held in conjunction with the museum's "Native Haute Couture" exhibit which launched in January. In addition to the show, the evening featured an intimate fashion show, an intimate Q&A with Michaels and a celebratory reception.
